MIDNIGHT BURST

Blues Rock band from France

Their first album

A Mazy Night

MIDNIGHT BURST just released their first album « A Mazy Night » including 5 original tracks and 2 covers.

Release date 4/12/2024 with Rock'n'Hall by the famous label DixieFrog.

The tracks order follows the theme of the sleepless night, A Mazy Night.

The lyrics are about modern society subjects : parties, doubts and choices, anxiety and insomnia, alienating work, job loss.

For their first opus, Midnight Burst makes a big impression : playing with the blues star Popa Chubby on Fletwood Mac's « Oh well ». They also invited the great French bluesman Fred Chapellier on the cover of Going Down (Freddie King).

Influenced by the 60s-70s British Blues Rock, the album expands the style boundaries : including many elements from the last 40 years : Blues Rock of the 70s, chorus of the 80s, poetical lyrics of the 90s, raw energy of the 2000s.

Their live shows have an infectious energy, perfect harmony with the audience, and constant improvisation that create a unique and timeless moment.

Biography

The story begins in 2017 when Nikk Giggs (lead vocals / guitar) and Stan Blaineau (bass / backing vocals) decide to go back to their first musical love : 60s-70s Blues Rock.

They quickly contact Nicolas Mermoud (drums/backing vocals) and MIDNIGHT BURST begins. Playing regularly with the harmonicist Vincent Dupuis (on stage and in the studio), he soon becomes the « official guest » of the band.

They take advantage of the 2020 world wide lockdown to write their first songs.
They release two singles in 2021 :
« Didn't wake up this morning » and
« The Maze ».

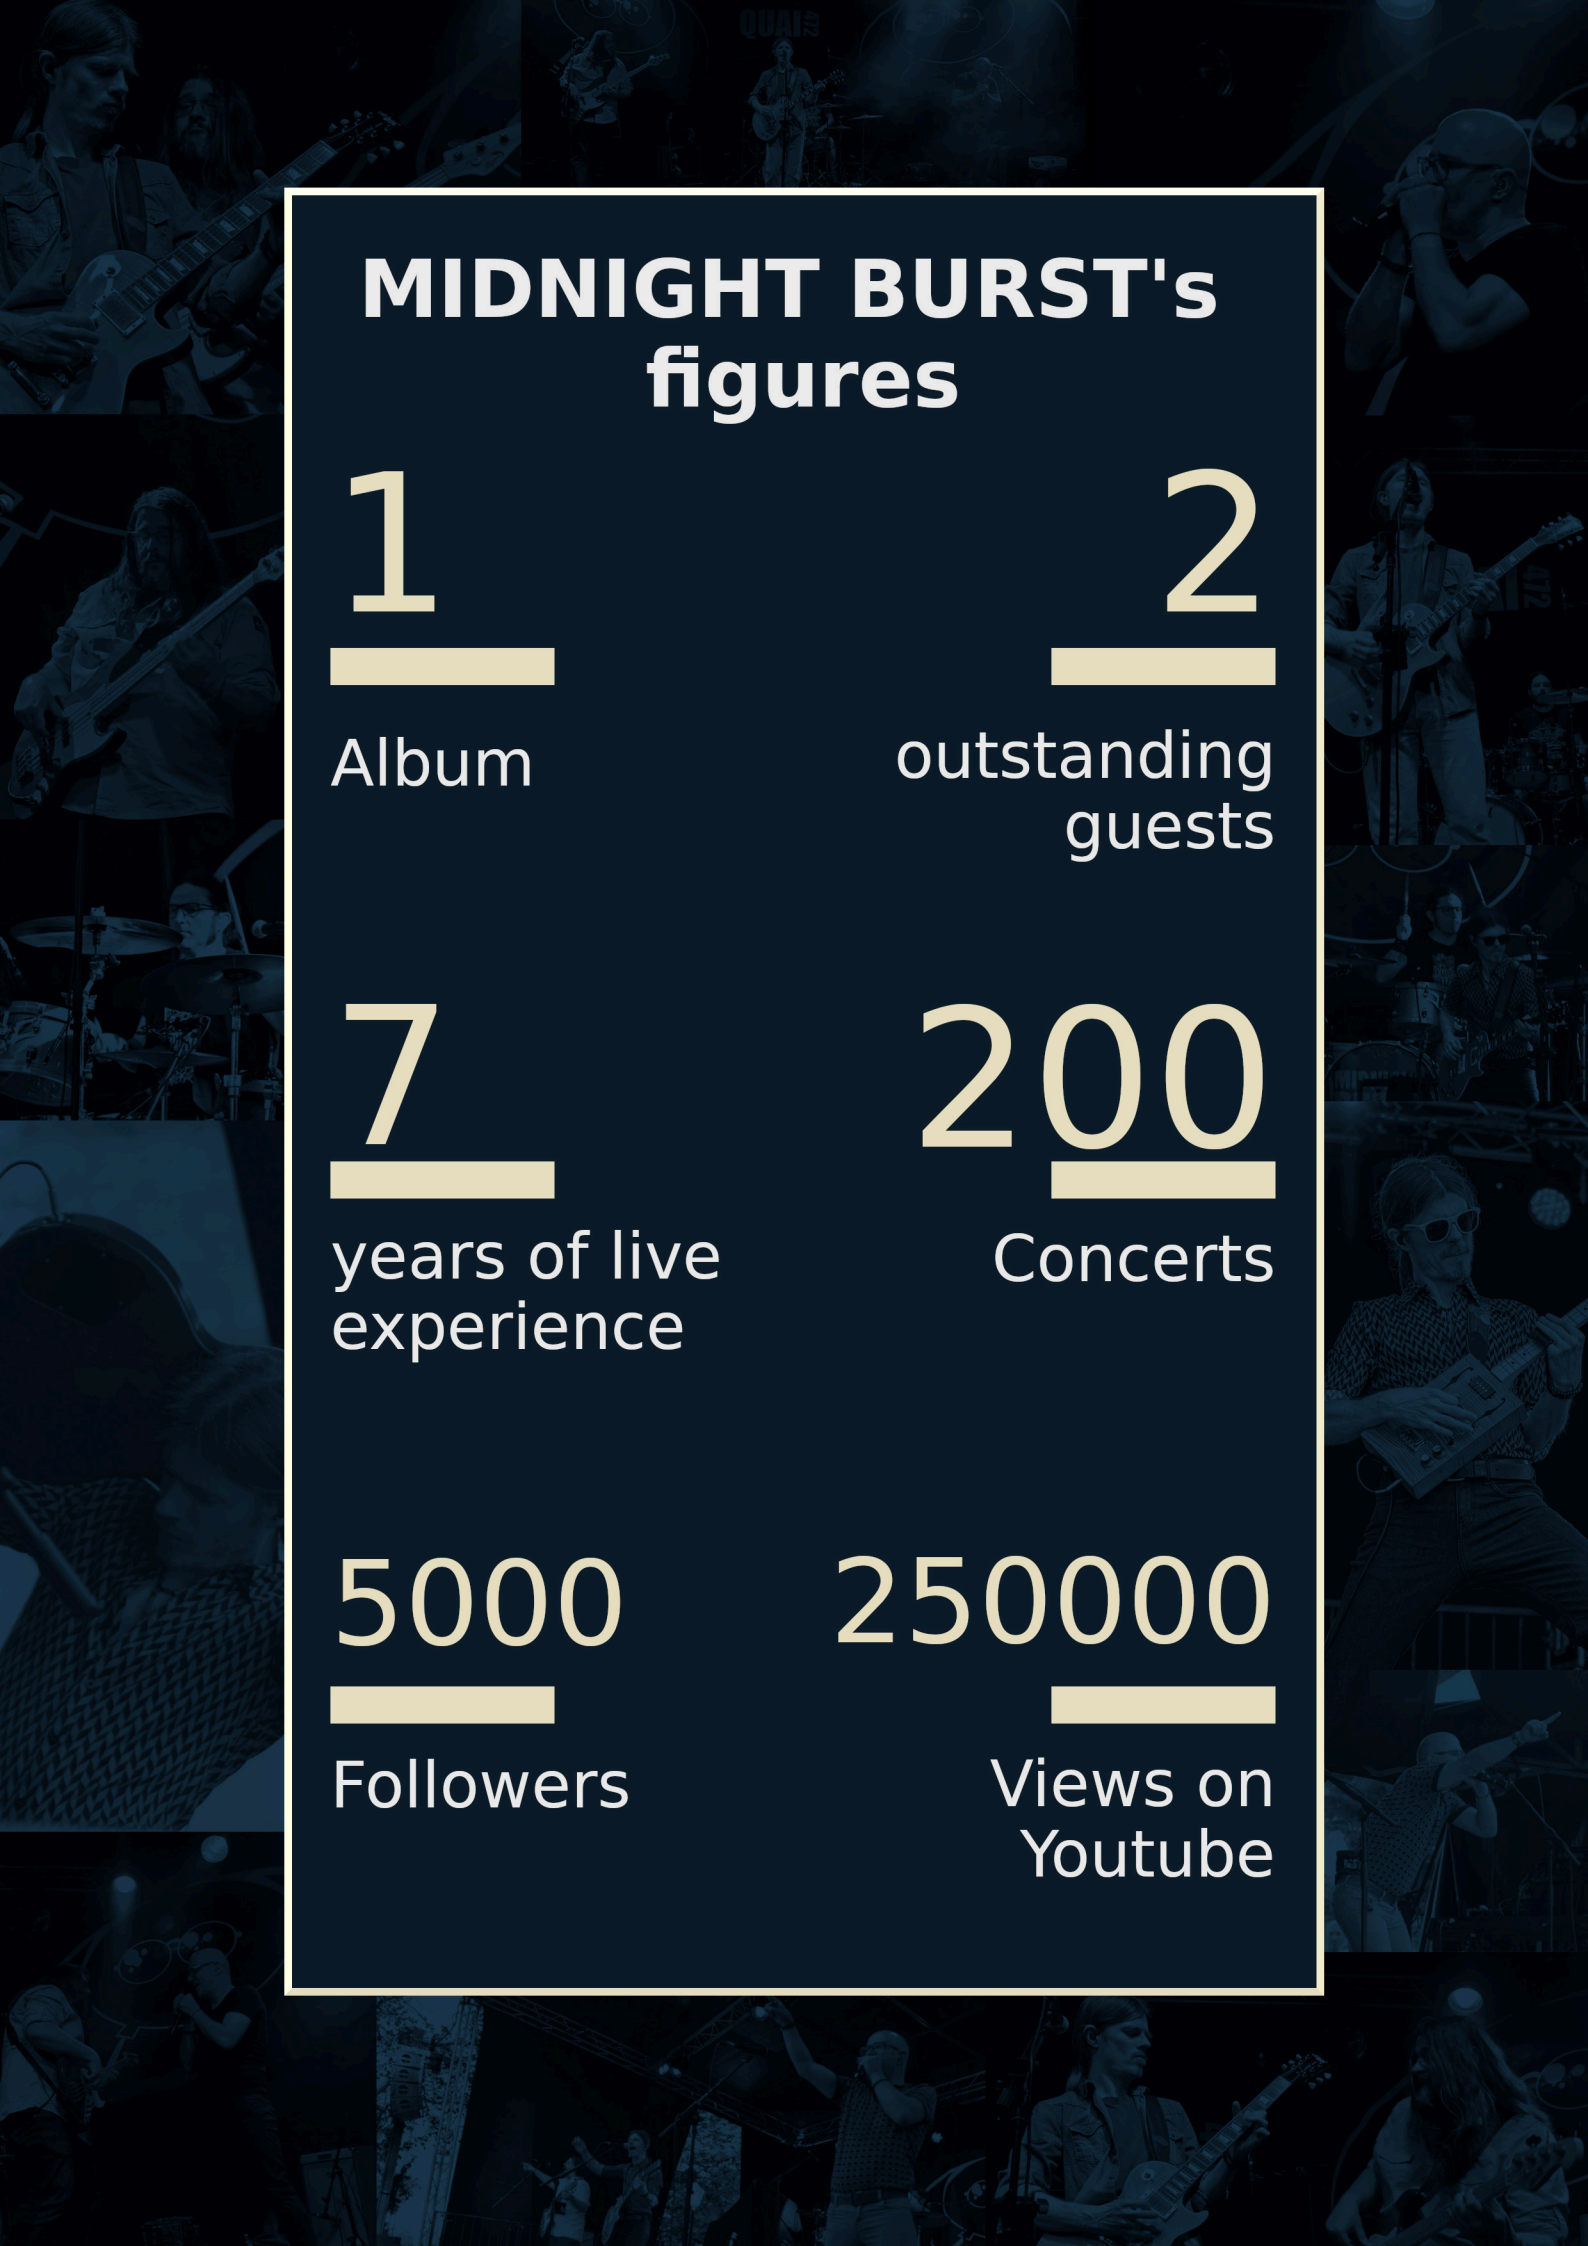

As the world returns to normal life in 2022, Midnight Burst starts again playing shows regularly and keeps on recording their first album.

In the meantime, they create their Youtube channel (nearly a hundred videos, more than 250K views) with special guests such as Tanguy Kerleroux, Nym Rhosilir, Arthur Dart and Steph Honde (to be released).

While composing the album, they win the « Grosses Guitares » and « Blues à Jarnioux » musical springboards, supporting for Charl  lie Couture, Jessie Lee and The Alchemists, Mister Mat, Riff Wave (Tanguy Kerleroux) and 58 shots.

Today, after more than 200 concerts, a successful crowdfunding (4600  earned thanks to 113 crowdfunders), with the help of their sponsors (Savarez, Vikory drumsticks, Heats drumheads, Letourneau bass, Afozic booking), they are about to release their first album « A Mazy Night » with two amazing guests : Popa Chubby and Fred Chapellier.
